

Daytimer is a 7 yr old reg. QH red dun gelding: He is quiet in and outside of the arena. He has been there, done that! I have used him for: team sorting (I have a 19 sec. run on him & numerous winnings), halter, trail riding, trail courses (both timed & judged), poles, and barrels. He is easy to catch, easy to handle, clip, shoe, & bathe. He stands quietly and loads quietly. He is very cautious as to what he is doing. He is light mouthed and works well off of leg cues. He is sound and sane with no bad vices. He is bred for cattle work or speed (Poco, Doc Bar, Spanish Freckles, Easy Jet). He has great conformation and disposition!

3 yr old reg. QH red dun filly. She is easy to handle & loves attention. This filly has speed, athleticism, and conformation for speed events and the style, elegance, and conformation for English events. She has been ridden a few times by a 14 yr old girl. She is sane and sound. Her training has been limited due to my own health. She is a beautiful mover. Her bloodlines include Bonanza, Joe Hale Bars, and Poco breedings.

Addy is the kindest horse. He was the first horse that my daughter rode at the age of 2. Addy has been used for "PONY" rides, camps and lessons. He is the perfect horse for beginner riders and youths of all ages. May have the potential to show in youth classes. We have Addy's full brother POCO ROWDY BRICK and would prefer that they stay together. These brothers have never been separated.

Rowdy is an all around great horse. Perfect for a youth rider. Rowdy will do anything you ask of him. He is used for camp and lessons for first time riders. Would be an excellent show horse as he has western pleasure training. We have Rowdy's full brother POCO ADD VANTAGE and would prefer that they stay together. These two brothers have never been separated.
