Sunday, January 23, 2011 from 10:00 a.m. To 11:00 a.m., Drew & Alicia will work with clinic participants on Halter and Showmanship techniques.

These clinics are open to the first 10 people responding for each day. Clinic fee is $50.00 per day or $75.00 for both days, plus a stall fee of $25.00.

Drew McDannald has been training and showing Arabians, Quarter Horses, Morgans, Paints, and Miniature horses for over 40 years, all the way from the local level to the National level, successfully. His Amateurs and Youth exhibitors have been just as successful in their endeavors, with National Championships of their own in disciplines ranging from Western Pleasure to Pleasure Driving and everything in between. The philosophy has always been the same, to help each individual reach their own personal goals. And since everyone's goals are different, everyone gets individual attention.
